MANAGEMENT IN ASIA-PACIFIC

Study and intern in this Bucknell-in spring semester program in the Asia-Pacific region. Spend eight weeks in Sydney engaged in coursework and eight weeks in Singapore undertaking a business internship. Students choose from a selection of management and finance courses, such as business law, financial decision modeling and international finance. In addition, an Australian culture course is offered. During the internship phase of the program, students will also be enrolled in Intercultural Management: Interacting in the Global Workplace.

Students live in apartments in Sydney and Singapore and have opportunities to engage with the host culture. In Sydney, students prepare their own food. In Singapore, it's typical to eat at one of the many Singapore hawker centres, large food courts serving a variety of ethnic foods.

For additional information, please contact the Office of Global & Off-campus Education at globaled@bucknell.edu.