

Readmission

A student who has withdrawn voluntarily from Bucknell University and has attended another college or university without the permission of the dean of his or her college at Bucknell must submit an application for readmission to the Office of Admissions under the regulations governing transfer students.