Adjunct Instructors: Kent Weber

The study of history stimulates our imagination, cultivates critical thinking and develops the skills necessary for communicating complex arguments. The fundamental academic work of researching, writing and speaking, as well as learning to analyze various sources (i.e., information literacy), are integral to the discipline of history and figure strongly in all of the department's courses.

History Major

Majors in history are allowed great latitude in designing a program to have depth and breadth. To ensure depth of historical understanding, we require majors to eventually focus upon a special particular field of study, such as (1) a specific historical theme (e.g., the history of women, gender, revolutions, colonialism); (2) a historical approach (e.g., intellectual and cultural history; science, technology and the environment; social and economic history); or (3) a period. The department encourages students to select topics by the end of their junior year.

To ensure breadth, the program must include: (1) at least one course in the history of Africa, Asia, Latin America or the Middle East; and (2) at least one course in pre-modern history (pre-1800).

Overall, the major requires nine courses, including a 100-level history course (taken before the subsequent requirement of 300-level courses), two 300-level seminars, and HIST 400 Undergraduate Research Seminar. Seven of the nine courses and all 300 and 400-level work must be taken at Bucknell. AP credits may not be applied toward the major. The department strongly recommends foreign language competence beyond the intermediate level.

In their senior year, majors will take HIST 400 Undergraduate Research Seminar. Students who write an honors thesis are exempt from this requirement. In addition, HIST 400 Undergraduate Research Seminar will serve as the Culminating Experience (CE) requirement for the history department.

Nine courses, including: <sup>1</sup>

1 100-level HIST course <sup>2</sup>	1
2 300-level HIST seminars	2
5 additional HIST courses	5
HIST 400 Undergraduate Research Seminar <sup>3</sup>	1

<sup>1</sup> These must include at least one course in the history of Africa, Asia, Latin America or the Middle East and at least one course in pre-modern history (pre-1800). Seven of the nine courses and all 300 and 400-level work must be taken at Bucknell.

Minor in History

A minor in history consists of a minimum of five courses. One of these five courses must be a 300-level seminar. Only one HIST course at the 100 level may count toward the minor.

History Learning Objectives

Majors in History will be able to:

- Demonstrate a base of knowledge about important periods, events and ideas in different cultures. (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9)
- Understand the historical context of ideas and events and evaluate differing scholarly interpretations of the past. (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9)
- Critically evaluate and analyze historical evidence, when appropriate, in the form of primary documents. (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 9)

- Write articulately and persuasively on historical themes and issues based on critical understanding and logical, rigorous and creative thinking. (1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9)
- Speak articulately and persuasively on historical themes and issues based on critical understanding and logical, rigorous and creative thinking. (1, 2, 3, 6, 7, 8, 9)
- Demonstrate basic research skills and understanding of historical methods, including an ability to use the library and read intelligently and with purpose. (1, 2, 6, 8, 9)
- Demonstrate a synthesis of all of the above in an encompassing historical literacy. (1, 2, 6, 7, 8, 9)
